Historic Landmark #19
Old Granbury Hospital/Granbury Opera House Dorm

The Old Granbury Hospital/Granbury Opera House Dormitory is located at 116 South Houston Street, and was built in 1946, originally as a hospital to serve the residents of Granbury. Afterwards, the property became the dormitory housing for traveling actors performing at the Granbury Opera House. The property is greater than fifty years old and has been included in Granbury's Historic Sites Inventory. The property has significant historical value having been built at the request of "Doc" Ballard, known as a progressive physician and also being associated with the historically significant Granbury Opera House.

The Old Granbury Hospital/Opera House Dormitory was designated a local landmark April 13, 2006.
